(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 6.—The long-awaited "debate of the century" over reorganization of the Supreme Court was opened in the senate this afternoon when Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, launched consideration of the administration's substitute for President Roosevelt's original bill.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—With increasing bitterness marking a deep split within its Democratic ranks, the senate was prepared today to start consideration of the administration substitute for President Roosevelt's supreme court bill.

PA NEW OBSERVES

There are no new detours in the local district for the period ending July 9, according to the weekly Detour Bulletin of the State Highway Department. Oiling operations are confined for the most part to the eastern and southern sections of the state during the coming week.

Traffic on the Perry highway in the eastern section of Lawrence county may have been as heavy at times in the past as during the week end and Fourth holiday, but it seemed that it could hardly have been much greater. For miles and miles at certain hours during the holiday period there was almost a continuous line moving along the highway.

While it may have been a holiday for most folks, farmers in Western Pennsylvania spent most of the day in the hay fields, Pa Newc is informed. They are in the midst of the hay harvest. Wheat fields are also about ready to be harvested. Further east, towards the center of the state, wheat has already been cut on some of the fields. In Western Pennsylvania, however, the corn seemed to be much further advanced than in the central part of the state.

New Castle's celebration of the Fourth was about as noisy a one as has been experienced in many years past. Fireworks were heard in all parts of the city on Monday, and last night, there was evidence of many displays.

New Castle and Lawrence county despite the terrific amount of auto traffic on the highways, escaped fatal fatalities over the Fourth holidays. There were numerous accidents.

Holiday Traffic In This Vicinity Results In Many Accidents

Automobile accidents in the city and county over the holiday period resulted in a number of persons being taken to hospitals for treatment according to police authorities. However, there were no fatalities.

Six Injured
Six persons were injured in a four car accident at 5:30 p. m. Sunday three miles outside the city limits on the New Castle-Ellwood City road. All the persons taken to the New Castle hospital were in one auto.

According to the Pennsylvania Motor police the injured are Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Smilick and their children, Thomas, Margaret and

Fourth Is Spent In "Quiet" Manner

'Scusin' a few cases of powder burns, a dash of sunburn here and there and some fender bending auto crashes it was a quiet Fourth. Quiet that is if you forget about the miniature charges of dynamite the neighbors' children set off and the roar of traffic along the streets which are a part of the state highway system.

It was a mobile Fourth. Everybody who had a car it seemed was going some place and usually in a hurry. Highways like the Perry or the Ben Franklin, or any of the other main arteries were one long string of cars for thirty six hours. Where folks used to burn up gun powder on the Fourth this time they burned gasoline this time, plenty.

The weather man was not too tough. Sunday afternoon a terrific rainstorm swept the southern end of the county. Campers along the Slippery Rock Creek saw the heaviest rainstorm in years. New Castle got it in part, and most of Sunday afternoon and evening was a wash-out. Monday the day was clear and not too warm.

As might have been expected the hospitals got their share of casualties from automobile accidents but no fatalities were reported. State highway officers were called for several accidents but the damage done was mostly to cars and not to humans.

Today the populace is resting from the week end vacation. The honors were done, patriotism had its inning and in a few days the effects of the two day vacation will be wearing off.

Stone Masons At Work On Armory

Construction work on the Joseph V. Cunningham Armory in Cascade Park started in earnest today when a force of stone cutters and masons began the completion of the administrative unit.

Louis R. Rice is in charge of the project with James Mercer in charge as foreman of masons. Fred Pascoe has charge of the quarries where the stone is being taken out. Officials of the WPA hope to have the administration unit under roof by August 1. Recently a supplementary project was approved which allocates $92,000 to the project and which it is hoped will be sufficient to finish it.

Sets Record For Midget Airplanes

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 6.—Norman B. Doerr, 25, today was credited with establishing a new endurance record for midget airplanes after keeping his 595-pound monoplane aloft for 24 hours.

Doerr, a flying instructor, landed his plane at Sky Harbor airport at 9:02 o'clock last night.

Nineteen refueling contacts were made with Doerr swooping low and snaring the fuel tins on a wire hook from an assistant speeding along the airport runway in an automobile.

Torrential Rain Hits Franklin, Pa.

(International News Service)
FRANKLIN, Pa., July 6.—Residents of this community today inspected the resultant damages of a freak twister, which during a torrential rain storm, cut a swath across the "open area" of the Third Ward.

A chicken coop was completely demolished and tossed 50 feet from its original moorings while an 18-foot section was ripped from the state highway garage roof. No one was injured and no other part of Franklin was touched by the freak big wind.

Special Guard Is Placed Over Slayer Of Girls

Los Angeles Authorities Report Man Confesses Slaying Of Three Girls

DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO DEMAND GALLOWES

Thirty-Two Year Old Man Reveals Details Of His Horrible Crime

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Albert Windford Dyer, confessed slayer of the three little girls, made one last attempt to bargain for his life, lost, and was locked up today under special guard to protect him from mob vengeance from the outside as well as from the contempt of fellow prisoners on the inside.

The 32-year-old WPA school crossing guard enlarged on his horrible confession and then offered to plead guilty if authorities would not demand the death penalty.

District Attorney Buron Fitts scorned the offer and announced he would ask a speedy trial in which he would use every means at his command to send the confessed "pied piper" to the gallows.

The more detailed confession came after officers had secured corroborating evidence that Dyer was the man that lured Madeline Everett, 8, her sister, Melba, 7, and Jeanette Stephens, 8, to lonely Baldwin Hills, strangled and attacked them.

Officers said they would produce several eye-witnesses who saw the little girls following Dyer into the hills.

Dyer was still shaky when he was taken into the district attorney's office for a re-examination. He had collapsed the day before, after confessing the crime.

He said he lured the three girls into the hills, strangled them, and then took off their shoes and knelt down and prayed before each body because he was sorry for what he had done.

When brought before the officers for a second time, he was told if he wished to repudiate his confession he could do it then.

"Before God, I killed them—I strangled them and then attacked them," he said after a moment's pause.

It was then he offered to plead guilty in return for his life.

Pronounced Sane
Before the re-questioning, Fitts had received the report of four psychiatrists assigned to examine the man. All pronounced him sane.

Besides further details of just

President Back At White House

Returns To Washington As Court Battle Is Being Launched

TAKES PART IN FOURTH PROGRAM

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 6.—President Roosevelt returned to the capital from Hyde Park, N. Y., by train today. He and Mrs. Roosevelt and party left the white house last week to attend the wedding near Wilmington, Del., of their son, Franklin, Jr., and Miss Ethel Dupont. After the ceremony the president went to his Hyde Park estate.

President Roosevelt's return coincided with formal opening of the senate floor battle over his plan to reorganize the judiciary.

Administration hopes were high that would be no serious filibuster. White house scouts reported optimistically that a fairly early vote might be expected on the Logan compromise. This would give the president power to appoint one supreme court justice a year to assist any incumbent who had reached the age of 75.

Informal Observations
Mr. Roosevelt took advantage of the deferred Fourth of July holiday yesterday to make a few informal observations on the broad question of current structure of the American government.

He motored up to Mt. Marion, N. Y., to participate in a homey celebration of Independence Day in the grounds of the Dutch Reformed church, and there said: "I hope the new generation, just like the older

SETTLE ARGUMENT ON FIELD OF HONOR

(International News Service)
COUSHATTA, La., July 6.—Seventeen-year-old Jessie Pepper, cool and self-possessed, promised to tell a coroner's jury today her story of how the women of the Pepper and Allen families settled their feud on the field of honor, with her former school chum shot through the heart.

The feud had its origin in gossip and was settled with gunfire in a lonely cow pasture near Crichton, just north of here. As its aftermath May Elvin Allen, also 17 years old, was dead and Miss Pepper was held in jail under a formal charge of murder.

Mothers Take Part.
Sheriff Floyd Jones of Red River parish said the girls' mothers also were principals in the cow pasture duel.

"One of the girls started some gossip about the other," the sheriff declared. "And then the mothers got into it. It was just some gossip, like folks often talk about."

Until last April the two girls,

'FLARES' BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN METEORS

Ships And Planes Are Rushing To Join Search For Missing Fliers

(International News Service)
HONOLULU, T. H., July 6.—A faint carrier wave on the frequency of Amelia Earhart's missing plane was picked up by the coast guard radio station here today, but operators were unable to determine the direction of it.

The humming wave continued from five a. m. to 6:30 a. m. P. S. T.

The cutter Itasca, north of Howland Island, reported hearing the same wave and immediately directed messages to the plane. In answer it received interruptions in the wave, but no definite signals.

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Shattered hopes that flares had been sighted from the lost round-the-world plane of Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Captain Fred Noonan, failed to dim the search today for the famed "first lady of the air" and her companion, down somewhere in the south Pacific near Howland Island.

The coast guard cutter Itasca, after reporting that the "flares" must have been meteors of heat lighting on the horizon 200 miles north of Howland, advised it was continuing the search due north of the tiny mid-Pacific isle, goal of the globe-girdling fliers when they were forced down nearly 96 hours ago by fuel exhaustion.

The Loyalists retired, the communique stated, leaving 300 dead.

Government attacks on insurgent positions at Cuerta De La Reina on the Casa De Campo road were repulsed, the communique claimed, and the roads in that area were "littered with government dead."

VOTING IN LABOR BATTLE

Labor Factions Seek Decision

Vote Being Taken In Philadelphia On C. I. O. And A. F. Of L. Preference

DISPUTE CAUSE OF RECENT "HOLIDAY"

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—Employees of two large baking companies continued voting today in an election to choose between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. as their bargaining agency. The C. I. O. has agreed to withdraw from the baking field if it loses the election.

Invasion of the bakery field by the C. I. O. and its signing of drivers had precipitated last Friday's "holiday" by A. F. of L. members which resulted in suspension of all truck traffic in Philadelphia, Camden, N. J., and communities adjacent to the two cities.

Workers of the Priehofer and Ward Baking companies began voting at 6 o'clock last evening. About 1,000 had voted at dawn. Voting was to continue until 1 p. m. today.

No results will be announced until after that hour.

The election is being conducted under supervision of Judge Frank Smith of the common pleas court, named by Mayor S. Davis Wilson as an impartial arbitrator.

generation, will realize that in meeting these new conditions we are not changing the fundamentals of the American form of government. In my belief, we are always going to keep our feet on the ground as a nation, in the future just as we have in the past.

Biographer Present

The president told this village audience about a picnic he and Mrs. Roosevelt had staged Sunday at their Valhalla cottage. Present were some neighbors, members of the press, and Emil Ludwig, European biographer now preparing material for a "word portrait" of the president.

"And this great biographer was perfectly amazed because there we were, sitting around in our shirt sleeves and some of them going swimming in the pool," said the president, "with everybody having a good time in complete informality."

"He said to me," continued Mr. Roosevelt, "Do you know, if this happened anywhere in Europe, whether it was a dictatorship or a monarchy or a republic, the head of the nation would have been surrounded by men in uniform, soldiers with bayonets—and the members of the press would have appeared in frock coats and silk hats instead of shirt sleeves and bathing suits."

U. S. In Good Shape

The president said this Fourth of July just past found the United States "so much better off than a lot of other nations in the world that I wish we could pass some of our poise on to them."

"I wish we could give them some of the fundamentals of American democracy," he added.

A presidential special left Highlands, N. Y., at midnight last night. The departure closed a four-day stay by the president at his family home in Hyde Park.

HUGE CROWD AT CASCADE PARK

Approximately 12,000 persons thronged Cascade Park, yesterday, which was celebrated here as Independence day, according to Superintendent Chris Coulthart.

Not one person was injured nor were any persons arrested.

At 10:15 p. m., it was necessary to close the parking ground because every available parking place was taken.

All of the concessionaires reported a good day financially and the fireworks were very good, it was stated.

Women Remain At W.P.A. Room

Sit-down strikers of the women's sewing project of the W.P.A. are still sitting it out in the headquarters building on South Mill street. They moved in two weeks ago tomorrow and today said they were going to stick it out until they got some action. The strike was in protest against layoffs of women in the sewing rooms in the Lawrence school.

The electricity was turned off over the week-end but is to be turned back on today, it is understood. With no electricity the women resorted to oil lamps.

cidents, some of them serious, but for the most part driving on the streets and highways was safe and sane.

While in the Covert Station

district, Dominick Russo, 208 West Washington street, discovered a miniature plane twisted in tree tops, along the river. The plane is believed to be a small model belonging to Don and Norman Douglas, of 716 Brooklyn avenue, which disappeared several weeks ago, after the young men sent it skyward. Mr. Russo advised Pa News that he would be glad to show the Douglas brothers the position of the plane if they get in touch with him this evening.

It seems that it generally storms

around July 4 every year. Last year there was a terrific storm on July 2 when over an inch and a quarter of rain was recorded, while this year it waited until the actual holiday itself to drench the district. There was plenty of sharp lightning with Sunday's storm.

This year's Fourth of July celebration

seemed to have been safe enough as far as fireworks accidents were concerned, but it could hardly have been termed a sane one. There was a regular bombardment starting Saturday and lasting until early this morning. Sunday seemed to make no difference to the celebrators.

This looks like tag day, especially on Mercer street. Walking along the street this morning Pa News observed quite a few "parking ducats" underneath windshield wipers.

It does not take motorists long to find out that the police are tagging cars in certain downtown areas, and a general exodus of machines for the city parking lot at the foot of Mercer street takes place. Ordinarily there are no more than a dozen machines parked there under ordinary occasions. This morning police started tagging parkers on downtown streets and this afternoon one could hardly find a place to park in the lot.

U. S. S. Colorado which will refuel the Itasca so that the coast guard cutter may steam south and search the reef-dotted areas near the Phoenix Islands, on which the lost plane might have landed.

The Itasca will act as a guard for the Colorado's three catapult planes which will scan thousands of square miles of the ocean by air.

While the Itasca and planes are searching in the south, the Colorado will continue the hunt north of the island with the Swan and Moorby.

Greatest Search In History

This switch in the search will not be possible until the Colorado refuels the Itasca, perhaps sometime today but more likely at dawn tomorrow in view of the Colorado's last report advising she was still about 900 miles from the immediate scene of search.

The greatest search in the history of aviation obtained new support today when the Japanese navy ministry at Tokyo, ordered two Japanese cruisers to proceed to Howland and offer aid.

The Japanese cruisers were speeding to the scene of search from Japanese mandate islands.

The Itasca reported at 2:25 a. m. (PST) today that the lights probably were not flares from the airplane.

Planes To Join Search Tomorrow

Washington, July 6.—The battleship Colorado will send its three airplanes out to search for Amelia Earhart at noon EST tomorrow, according to a message to coast guard headquarters today.

The vessel gave its position as 300 miles east and 450 miles north of Howland Island, toward which she is steaming.

The naval tanker Ramapo, bound from San Pedro, Cal., to the island of Guam, was today ordered to alter its course and meet the airplane carrier Lexington at Lahaina Roads, 72 miles southeast of Honolulu and refuel her. The Lexington is enroute to the vicinity of Howland Island to aid in the search for Miss Earhart.

been located"—a reference to reports the missing plane was down 281 miles north of Howland Island—"but you must remember I have a very high regard for her ability as a flyer."

"She has pulled through a great many dangerous situations, and I am confident she will pull through this one."

"Flares" Believed Meteors

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Flares believed from the missing round-the-world plane of Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Captain Fred Noonan, apparently were meteors, the coast guard cutter Itasca, searching north of Howland Island in mid Pacific for the aviatrix and her companion, advised coast guard headquarters here at 2:25 a. m. (PST) today.

"Objects sighted apparently were meteors," read the message from the Itasca. "Howland Island reported observed same effect."

The message shattered high hopes that the round-the-world plane, missing for nearly 96 hours, at last had been found in the ocean waste of the South Pacific.

The message also interpreted to mean that the coast guard cutter had reached the scene of origin of the apparent flares and has made a thorough search.

Since Howland Island is at least 200 miles from the point of origin of the "flares" coast guard officials here declared it would have been impossible to see flares at such a distance.

This seemed to corroborate the belief of those directing the greatest search in the history of Pacific aviation that the "flares" actually were meteors or heat lightning on the horizon.

The report that "flares" had been sighted was flashed to the mainland at 12:45 a. m. (PST) from Honolulu.

The navy radio station at Wallupe reported at that hour the following message was intercepted from the Itasca:

"To Earhart plane. We can see your flares and are proceeding towards you."

After several minutes, the Itasca again radioed to the Earhart plane and again the message was intercepted by navy radio at Wallupe.

This time the Itasca instructed

"See your flares. Go ahead."

This was interpreted to mean that the Itasca's commander had seen the "flares" from a great distance and was instructing Miss Earhart to continue firing flares to guide the cutter to the exact spot.

Then came the dreadful warning from coast guard headquarters that the "flares" might have been heat lightning on the horizon.

Shortly after, the skeleton crew of the coast guard maintaining a portable short wave radio at Howland Island, advised they too had seen the lights on the horizon.

Eliminated As Distress Signals

This report virtually eliminated the lights as being distress signals from the missing plane because it would have been impossible for Howland Island to have sighted flares, fired at a distance of more than 200 miles.

The search for the missing "first lady of the air" and her companion was concentrated in the area almost due north of Howland late last night after navy radio at Wallupe yesterday picked up a cryptic broken message apparently from the plane.

This message, copied exactly the same by three expert navy operators, was barely decipherable. It read:

"281. North Howland. Call KHAQQ. Beyond north. Don't hold with us much longer. Above water shut off."

This was interpreted to mean that the plane was 281 miles north of Howland.

The Itasca immediately sped to the scene, arriving at 8:30 last night. Searchlights of the cutter scanned a wide area. The commander of the cutter, after patrolling the waters for four hours, advised the search was unavailing.

Shortly after this distressing message, another followed. It was the startling report intercepted by navy radio at Wallupe. Hopes were buoyed up. The searchers believed the hunt at last was near an end.

Then for the second time another distressing message streaked across the Pacific from the Itasca, advising that the "flares" apparently were meteors.

The message indicating that the plane was 281 miles north of Howland was the subject of wide discussion among radio experts.

George Palmer Putnam, husband of the missing aviatrix, advised coast guard officials he had been informed by the builders of the plane that its radio would not work if it were floating.

The only logical interpretation of the last words of the message, in view of this report, was that the plane was "above water" and possibly on some tiny coral atoll in the South Pacific.

Numerous reefs dot the Pacific around Howland. There is only one of the sizeable spot of land in the other sizeable spot of land in the vicinity—Baker Island, 40 miles to the south of Howland, which is itself only a mile and a half strip of sand, half a mile wide.

Joining the Itasca in the search of the wasteland north of Howland was the mine sweeper Swan, which sped under forced draught from Honolulu. The British freighter Moorby, which was in the vicinity when the "281 north Howland" message was flashed, also joined the search.

Expected to arrive at the scene of search tomorrow at dawn is the U. S. Colorado which will catapult her three seaplanes into the hunt.

Two days out of Howland, are the navy aircraft carrier Lexington and four destroyers.

The Lexington has 63 planes aboard and a highly efficient crew of navy aviators—300 experts who are not unfamiliar with the south Pacific where they learned to spot tiny objects during the annual war maneuvers of the United States Navy.

There are 444 licensed women pilots in the United States and they range in age from 17 to 60 and come from all walks of life—socialists, mothers, movie stars and business girls.

These additions were:

1. That he planned the murder and attacks a month before when he went for a ride in the Baldwin hills with his wife.

2. That he strangled each one with a rope, rather than strangling two of them with his bare hands as he had said before.

3. That he built the bonfire found near the crime scene. He said he had planned to use the fire to destroy evidence, but then became stricken with remorse, prayed before the bodies, and went home.

4. That he led the girls the two and one half miles into the hills. He had said he made an appointment to meet them there and that they went ahead with him.

REOPEN PLANTS AT CLEVELAND, O.

Republic is the city's largest corporate employer when its plants are operating on a normal basis.

At the Upon Works, where 1,700 normally are employed, it was estimated some 700 men returned to their jobs. Plant officials claimed the figure was above 1,000, while CIO leaders declared it was below 300.

Exact figures likewise were not available by the Truscon Works, which normally employs between 800 and 1,000.

Guardsmen On Duty

The smallest of the four Republic units here, the Steel & Tubes, Inc., which normally employs 500, remained closed. It was understood the guard officials desired to concentrate the law enforcement forces at the three other plants.

All the militiamen are from central and southwestern Ohio. They came here by motor transport yesterday from the Youngstown-Warren strike area.

Working with the guardsmen on strike detail are 400 police and nearly 700 deputies. A score of police "cadets" were sworn in as special deputies to aid suburban officials in preventing "invasion" by out-of-town sympathizers.

At a CIO mass meeting last night, union leaders protested the presence of the troops.

3,000 Enter In Two Hours

Cleveland, July 6.—Two hours after the start today of the back-to-work march into three Republic Steel plants closed since May 26, nearly 3,000 men were in the plants, the company announced.

The company normally employs twice that number in the three plants reopened today under National Guard protection.

HOLIDAY OBSERVED AT FIELD CLUB

Fourth of July holiday week-end was fittingly celebrated at the New Castle Field club by its membership, festivities being officially launched with a dance on Saturday evening that was largely attended.

From 9:30 o'clock on a capacity crowd of dancers enjoyed a program of music provided by a prominent orchestra, and on Sunday "open house" was observed.

Monday, golf featured the morning hours for men, and in the afternoon both men and women joined in the various tournaments planned by the committee in charge. A special luncheon was served at noon, and in the evening a holiday dinner was enjoyed.

During the evening hours card tables were arranged and contests in bridge were soon underway. This diversion was decided upon, due to the fact that a dance was held Saturday. Those winning prizes included Mrs. B. F. Karlier, Mrs. R. M. Garland, Mrs. K. C. Steele, W. W. Duff and Dr. W. F. McDowell. Hosts in charge were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Street. Lunch was served afterwards.

All holidays are appropriately celebrated at the New Castle Field club, and it was unanimously voted that this July Fourth was a red letter occasion for those in attendance.

ENDRESS-MILLER WEDDING IN CHURCH

At a beautiful wedding Saturday evening in the First Christian church, Miss Alberta Milda Endress, daughter of John Endress of Etna street, became the bride of LeRoy Kenneth Miller of Williams street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, in the presence of a large assemblage of friends and relatives of the young couple.

The altar was beautifully decorated for the occasion with graceful palms, ferns and tall standards of cut flowers, set off with lighted candles in branching candelabrum. Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor, officiated with the single ring service.

Given in marriage by her brother, Woodrow Endress, the bride was stunning in a gown of white lace, princess style, which had tiny buttons from the high neckline to the hem. The skirt touched the floor in front and tapered off into a long train, appliqued with white satin, giving a note of distinction. Her veil, entrain, was cap shaped with dainty clusters of seed pearls at either side. She carried an arm bouquet of Calla and valley lilies.

Attending her sister as matron of honor, Mrs. A. J. Groucutt of Ray street, was attired in aqua lace over taffeta, made toe length, with large leghorn hat. A touch of varied pastel tints was the only trimming and a band of rainbow hues adorned the crown of her hat. Her arm cluster was of pink roses and blue delphinium.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lois McGaffie, who wore pink organza, and Miss Eleanor Gibson, who appeared in green organza. Both gowns were made identical, with long full skirts and their picture hats matched. Arm bouquets of roses to harmonize completed their ensemble. Other members of the bridal party were the little Misses Betty King and Joan Gordon, flower girls. They wore dainty frocks of pink and blue, with sashes of ribbon to match. Bows of the same were tied on the handles of the baskets containing rose petals, which they scattered about.

A. J. Groucutt, brother-in-law of the bride, served the groom as best man. Those who ushered the several hundred guests to their seats were Thomas Davis and Bob Mounts, the latter of New Wilmington, all wearing white suits.

Presiding the ceremony the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was played by Miss Isabel Johnson, organist, and during the exchange of vows, strains of appropriate nuptial selections were heard, including "Dreams" and "Evening". The triumphant strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March were heard as the bride and groom left the church, following a short congratulatory period.

A reception took place afterwards at the bride's home, and those in attendance were served a buffet supper. The bridal table was attractively arranged with the conventional tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. This formed the centerpiece. Tall tapers and flowers added further to the setting.

Later in the evening the young couple left for a few days trip to Atlantic City, New York and other points of interest. For going away, the bride chose a sand brown tailored dress with apple green trimmings. Her accessories matched. Upon their return here they will be "at home" to friends at 815 Etna street.

The bride is a graduate of Union high with the class of 33, and also, she received a diploma from the Columbus Junior College for Nurses at Takoma Park, Md. He attended the same high school and is now associated with the Johnson Bronze company as a machinist.

A series of parties and showers have been given in honor of the principals since the news of their engagement was received. They had on display at the Endress home an array of beautiful gifts, testifying to the esteem in which they are held. Guests were in attendance from Cleveland, O., Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., Youngstown, O., New Wilmington and the immediate vicinity.

Troop Keeps On Winning Honors

Have Highest Score In Combat Firing Problems During Holiday Period

MANY VISITORS NOTED AT CAMP

Troop F. 103rd Cavalry, New Castle's own National Guard unit, is continuing to win honors to the consternation of the downstate troops, and there are few laurels remaining which they have not annexed.

Several of the members of the civilian sponsoring committee spent the week-end at camp, and found the men in excellent health and spirits. They witnessed the maneuvers which took place on Sunday, when the members of the troop, under the command of Major General Edward A. Shannon and Adjutant General Frederick B. Kerr reviewed the troops.

It was an interesting demonstration. Four armored cars, three airplanes, and other pieces of equipment took part in the combat problem, when real war was simulated. All were connected by radio and a loud speaker attached to the set up, which enabled the spectators to hear all the orders given, and the communication between the tanks, airplanes and ground forces. They were thus able to hear what was going on and to follow the different maneuvers and understand what results were being achieved.

At Saturday afternoon's "pass-by" or review, Capt. George F. Seyffert, who is now the senior captain of the squadron, commanded his squadron. In the review Sunday as well as in the maneuvers which followed, Second Lieut. Raymond P. Atkinson was placed in command of Troop I, when the regular officers of the troop were unable to be present because of other duties, a signal honor. Lieut. Atkinson acquitted himself most creditably.

In the combat firing problem Lieut. Atkinson's platoon scored 102 hits on the one combat range against the next nearest score on this range of 80; while Lieut. William H. Goehring and his platoon on the other range, a more difficult one, scored 82 hits against the next nearest score of 73.

Troop I has furnished the colonel's orderly, four out of the first six days at camp, until the honor became monotonous and the colonel changed the method of selection from the best dressed trooper and selected his orderly from Headquarters troop.

Monday morning the entire regiment went on a bivouac to Colebrook, over 17 miles from camp, for a march problem under battle conditions. The last half of which was finished in the midst of a downpour of rain.

L. B. Round, chairman of the civilian sponsoring committee did not return with the others in the party when they came back home yesterday, but stayed in Harrisburg with the final plans and specifications of the Army, which are now ready for approval. Their acceptance is expected to be largely a matter of course.

The largest number of visitors to ever visit the camp at one time from this city was present over the week-end, and naturally the folks from back home felt exceedingly proud of the way in which the troop has been conducting itself.

The troop will finish its tour of duty on Friday and will return home, being scheduled to arrive here on Saturday morning.

William Lewarchick, occupant of Paul's car, sustained injuries about his head and face.

Ship Coal Into Johnstown Plant

Hundreds Of Cars Are Shunted Into Plant On Monday

C. I. O. DECLARES STRIKE CONTINUES

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 6.—Although CIO leaders warned the strike against Bethlehem Steel's Cambria plant would continue, company officials today rushed preparation to resume "normal operations."

Hundreds of carloads of coal, believed to have been obtained from commercial mines, were shunted into the plant yesterday. Bethlehem's "captive" mines have been closed by a strike called by the United Mine Workers.

Another man was held by police on a technical charge of suspicion in the attempted dynamiting of a Pennsylvania railroad train last week. State police officials refused to comment.

Plant Clear Of Pickets The seven-mile long plant was clear today of pickets, despite three strikes being waged against the Bethlehem Corporation, the SWOC walkout in the mills, the strike on the Conemaugh and Black Lick railroad, which is company-owned, and the cessation of work in Bethlehem's coal mines.

Company officials said they expected no decrease in the number of men reporting for work over the holiday week-end because of the CIO mass meeting held Sunday in Faith Grove. The meeting, at which 1200 assembled, was addressed by Governor George H. Earle and Philip Murray, SWOC chairman.

Gov. Earle, praising Murray and condemning Tom Girdler, president of Republic Steel Corporation, said he would go to Washington to determine if the steel companies may be induced to agree to contracts with the SWOC.

Pittsburgh In Used Car Mart

New Towing Ordinance Results In City Gaining Flock Of Used Autos

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 6.—All because of a new towing ordinance, it appeared today that the city of Pittsburgh was going to be forced into the used car business.

Seven cars, towed into the municipal garage when the owners parked them illegally, are still cluttering up space in the building. Nobody wants them, not even the unimpaired owners, who insisted it would cost more than the cars are worth to take them off the city's hands.

So it looks like the city administration will be forced to hold a used car auction to get rid of them.

Granger, 22, of Glassport, was killed and his girl companion, Gertrude Sherman, was critically injured when an automobile crashed into them as they walked toward a summer camp from a dance pavilion.

Frank Kasper, 44, of Baltimore, Md., died in the Latrobe hospital Saturday night, several hours after Donald Stover of Bellefonte passed away in the same institution. They were injured in a car crash Saturday morning. Mrs. Donald Stover, wife of one of the victims, was reported "very critical."

In Central Pennsylvania. In the central Pennsylvania area one man was killed by an automobile and more than 100 were treated in hospitals for firecracker burns.

Jacob Mentzer, 60, became confused while walking along the highway near Denver, Lancaster county, and stepped into the path of an automobile, suffering fatal injuries, according to police. Three youths were injured critically near Perdis when their light roadster left the road, plunged over the embankment and crashed into a tree.

Although there were no fireworks deaths in this area—at least one person—three-year-old Peggy Mason of Harrisburg was burned seriously by an exploding firecracker. More than two score other persons were treated for burns in Harrisburg.

Fireworks Injuries. J. David Eachus, 20, of Madia was killed near West Chester and six Philadelphians met death in auto crashes on southern New Jersey highways. The latter were: Mrs. Irma Detky, 36, and her 17-year-old daughter; Harry Carlisle, 53; Mrs. Kezia Birney, 71; Carmen Marino, 30, and Thomas Call, 60.

More than 100 persons, chiefly youngsters, were injured by fireworks in eastern Pennsylvania. In Philadelphia alone 62 injuries were reported as compared with 129 victims of firecrackers last year.

Clarence Boyer, 29, and Robert Davis, 10, both of Philadelphia, may lose the use of an eye as the result of premature explosions of giant firecrackers.

One of Lakewood's largest picnic throngs is expected Saturday, July 10, when the Westinghouse force from Sharon participates in its annual outing. On Sunday, July 11, the annual Lincoln-Garfield school alumni will hold their outing there.

Capt. F. M. Butler Named Engineer Of Flood Board

Leaves W. P. A. As Assistant Director To Take New Position

Captain Francis M. Butler, assistant director of District 14, Works Progress Administration has left the local office and has been appointed an engineer in the state flood control board service it was announced today. For the time his office will be in Pittsburgh.

Captain Butler was with the old R. W. D. as a project engineer. When the WPA was organized he was made chief of operations and when Joseph T. Beltz, assistant director left, was appointed to that place as assistant to Director J. Vale Downie.

For the present at least there will be no appointment as assistant director, this work being combined with the duties of Chief of Operations Lloyd M. McCormick.

"We will never stop fighting this proposal to pack the supreme court in order to control its judicial decisions," said Wheeler. "We can end this struggle immediately if the proponents of this legislation will agree with us to submit a constitutional amendment on the question for a vote of the people. That is the American way of doing things and it is the only compromise we will accept."

With Wheeler and other opposition leaders urging a constitutional amendment, rumors persisted that the administration finally will agree to such a compromise. One leader, Democratic senator said privately.

"We will debate the substitute bill for two weeks to learn definitely whether the opposition really can defeat it through filibustering tactics. It looks now as though they can but we want to make certain of it. After that, look for any sort of compromise the opponents will accept. For myself, I'd guess that it will be a constitutional amendment."

The amendment most discussed would call for compulsory retirement of supreme court justices at the age of 75 years, with not more than one being forced to retire in any calendar year. This would be slightly different from pending administration substitute, which calls for appointment of the new justice each year for every justice on the bench over 75 years, with no additional appointment when the aged justice does retire.

The government reorganization and wage and hour bills appeared doomed unless the court fight is settled promptly. Some tax revision legislation and a third deficiency bill probably will be enacted. So, too, will the farm tenancy bill and the flood control appropriation bill now in conference, the leaders said.

The date of adjournment of congress also depended on the outcome of the court fight.

The British Imperial Airways flying boat Caledonia reached Botwood from Foynes at 6:06 a. m. E. D. T., after a flight of 15 hours and 10 minutes. The slower time of the British craft was attributed to headwinds and other weather conditions.

The Caledonia and Clipper crossed each other at sea—87 miles apart—at 11:06 p. m. E. D. T. The American craft carried Capt. Harold E. Gray and a crew of six. Aboard the Caledonia were Capt. A. S. Wilcockson and a crew of three.

Guards Ready To Break Camp

Part Of National Guards At Indiantown Gap Camp Get Ready For Trip Home

(International News Service)
INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., July 6.—Tanned and somewhat "hardened" by a stiff military workout, more than 1500 civilian-soldiers of the 52nd cavalry brigade, Pennsylvania national guard, made ready today for the "armistice" for the summer war-games at Indiantown Gap military reservation.

For some of the contingents, including several from the Philadelphia area, the two-weeks training will end early tomorrow when troops break camp and start for home.

Other units will leave during the day with those located nearest the reservation leaving last.

It was Independence Day yesterday at the expansive 40-acre reservation. Just as it was in other sections of the country, but the prevalence of the holiday spirit was not to be seen. The guardsmen, despite a drenching rain which fell most of the day, engaged in field drills with Brig. Gen. Edward J. Stackpole, Jr., Harrisburg, commander of the brigade in the field, offering criticisms and, with his staff, supervising the activities.

Terrific Storm Occurs Sunday

Lightning Strikes Three Homes Within Short Distance Of Each Other

PICKNICKERS AND FISHERMEN DRENCHED

Picknickers, fishermen and golfers were driven to seek shelter Sunday afternoon when the district was swept by a series of thunder storms.

The storms traveled in circles and visited different sections of the city at different hours.

Around 2:30 o'clock the storm passed over the East Side, when three homes were struck within a period of fifteen minutes.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. McKnight, of 933 Morton street, was struck, the bolt hitting the peak of the roof and tearing off a large section of slate. The lightning also put the electric system of the home out of commission and exploded the light bulbs.

The chimney atop the home of Mike Melder, of Morton street, a short distance away, was also struck and the bricks torn loose.

Fifteen minutes later, the home of Kenneth Taylor, of Rose avenue, was struck by a bolt, which also damaged the chimney and made a hole in the ground alongside the house.

The storm circled about and did not strike at the Sylvan Heights golf course, several miles east of this section, until 3:45, when lightning struck dangerously close, forcing the players to seek the shelter houses provided for such an emergency.

An inch and a quarter of rain was recorded during the storm.

Boy Scout Camp Opened Monday

Camp John Phillips Season Opened Monday With First Group Of Scouts

Boy Scout Camp, John M. Phillips at Kennedy's Mills opened on Monday morning with a fair complement of scouts in attendance, a number that will be greatly increased when the boys attending the Jamboree in Washington return to New Castle.

For several weeks prior to the opening of camp, a group of men and boys worked preparing the camp for occupancy. Nef roofs were placed on some of the buildings and all of them repaired. In some cases they received a coat of paint. Everything about the grounds has been placed in first class condition.

One of the newest additions is a fine swimming float, 8x10 feet in size, equipped with a diving board. The float is anchored in the best swimming spot along this stretch of the Slippery Rock, namely the spot known as the "Ledges."

At this point in the stream has been placed the dock, bouys, boats and other equipment for the promotion of safety. The maximum depth of the water is around eight feet with graduated depths suitable for all swimmers.

Camp Phillips is one of very few Scout camps in the country to publish a daily newspaper. It is a two sheet affair called the "Outpost." The paper is edited and printed by Bill Everson. Each copy is presented with copy each day immediately following supper.

The camp staff this season includes: Harvey Miller, in charge of handicrafts; William Pherson, storekeeper and in charge of campfire; George Griffith, bugler and general handy man; William Elverson, waterfront director and N. R. Casillo, general director.

Worship Services At Park Pavilion

Rain Makes It Necessary To Have Cascade Park Meeting Indoors

Worship services could not be held at the bandstand in Cascade Park Sunday evening, because of the rain, but were held in the dancing pavilion instead. It was the first time this season that it was necessary to have the services inside.

C. C. Coulthard and the ushers of the First U. P. church arranged the seats just in front of the orchestra platform and the music was heard very well. The brass quartet played a prelude consisting of "Softly and Tenderly" by Thompson, an air from the opera "Waffenschmidt" by Lortzing and, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" by Mason.

The following service was arranged and directed by Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, with the musical parts directed by A. Alfred Taylor, organist and director of the church. Congregational hymn—"Faith Of Our Fathers."

Scripture lesson, Psalm 85—Rev. John Ruggieri, Italian M. E. Anthem, "America The Beautiful"—First U. P. choir.

Prayer—Rev. R. B. Withers, secretary of the New Castle Ministerial Association.

Offertory, "The Holy City"—trumpet solo by Thomas Cramer. Soprano solo, "American Ode" by Alfred Taylor—Mrs. Muriel Boyd.

Sermon—Dr. S. E. Irvine who chose as his subject, "A New Declaration of Independence," stressing three points—a declaration against lawlessness, a declaration against moral cowardice and a declaration against ireligion.

The service was closed by the congregation singing "America" and benediction was offered by Dr. Irvine.

Mr. Taylor had his part of the service well taken care of and the anthem by the choir and Mrs. Boyd's solo were much appreciated. Dr. Irvine preached a good sermon and had the weather been at all favorable, a much larger crowd would have been to the service.

Next Sunday the meeting at Cascade Park will be in charge of Rev. Harold A. McCurdy with the choir and ushers of Epworth M. E. church assisting.

Gene Sarazen Leads Tourney In Scotland

Underslung Gene Sarazen Gets Hot At Carnoustie And Posts 71 Card

By THOMAS C. WATSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(International News Service) CARNOSTIE, Scotland, July 6.—Squat, underslung, Gene Sarazen, former champion of two continents, came rollicking back into the headlines today, after several years of obscurity, by shooting a 71 in the second half of the British open golf championship's qualifying round to take a one-stroke lead over the field.

This, with Sarazen's 70 of yesterday at Burnside, gave the American a 36-hole aggregate of 141 toping two other Americans—Byron Nelson and Sam Snead—by a stroke. They had been in front since the early hours, Snead being tied for low honors on the day, thus far.

With a 70 while Nelson took a 71, Ralph Guldahl, American champion was the other 70 shooter, the performance giving Ralph a medal score of 144, while Henry Cotton, Britain's hope, had a 72 for 145; Bobby Locke, South Africa, a 73 for 144 and Denny Shute, American P. G. A. champion, a 75 for 146.

thinking, noble feeling, and splendid health.

So Mrs. Martin Johnson returns to her beloved jungle and hopes to spend the rest of her life in its green protective peace.

But is she fair, is her indictment true? Our civilization is faulty and none pretends otherwise. Sections of it are ugly and brutal and unhappy and Mrs. Johnson believes us lost and believes that she is taking the right road when she returns to the jungle. I cannot agree with her. I think she has turned aside, turned away from nature, and that, despite our weakness and blindness, our failures and our crimes, are on the right road. This civilization is our life, it is the fruit of our genius, and it is nature in us that creates it. And we too can believe as implicitly as Mrs. Johnson does in the goodness of nature. We may fall, but nature will lead us by the hand toward a civilization that is finer than ever we have known, toward which we struggle.

Dan Cupid has been traveling on the airways. United Air Lines today issued an S. O. The company is planning to employ approximately twenty girls to fill the vacancies created by Dapper Dan.

E. L. Strawsburg, of Hagerstown, Md., has been a rat-catcher for 17 years, so he ought to know what he's talking about. "The female rat is too smart to be trapped," he says. "Ninety per cent of the rats caught in traps are males." The only way to get the more subtle sex is to poison them, he explains.

Jimmy Dunn, former Grove City high athlete and now head football coach at Northeastern college, Boston, will marry Miss Hilda Foley, a school teacher of Somerville, Mass., Wednesday of this week.

Wayne Segner, 4, of Brownstown, Wis., stood in a railroad right of way and waved a thundering freight to a dead halt. The engineer popped his head out and asked: "What's the matter, son?" "You can't drive that thing any further till I get my daddy's cows off the track," Wayne ordered. Then he called his father from a nearby field to help drive two valuable Jersey cows from the tracks.

Thirty-six years ago three young brothers shook hands in far-off Lithuania and set out in different directions to make their fortunes. They expected to meet again within a short time. But the meeting did not take place until recently—and then not in Lithuania, but Minneapolis. What with this and that they just hadn't been able to get together.

The message, according to the woman, said: "We can not stand up more than three more hours."

She declared the message came in Morse code and gave Miss Earhart's position as 42 miles north of Howland Island and stated the airplane was aloft on open water.

New Control House Now In Place On Railroad Turntable

Engine Switching Device At Pennsylvania Shops Completely Re-inforced

The old turntable at the Pennsylvania railroad shops in Mahoningtown has now had its face completely lifted. Workmen have completed the task of placing a new steel control house on the table, and have re-inforced all of the iron work and track of the table.

This work was begun several weeks ago as part of the regular shop maintenance. The steel control booth replaces a ramshackle wooden one which has seen its day and was badly in need of replacement.

From the new house the switchman can direct the turning of railroad engines or cars in nearly 30 different directions.

First Union Meet Of Ward Churches Is Well Attended

Ward Churches Inaugurate
Union Services In Methodist Church Sunday

The first Union service of the three Seventh Ward churches, held in the Mahoningtown Methodist church Sunday evening, was very well attended, despite the rain which fell during the early part of the evening.

Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, pastor of the host church, presided at the meeting, and Rev. Milton Shearer, pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church delivered the sermon. His topic was, "There Is A Man On The Cross."

These Union services will be held throughout the summer in rotation manner. Next Sunday evening, the Madison Avenue church will be the scene of the meet, and Rev. D. C. Schnebly will be the preacher.

Many Ward People Use Shortcut To Avoid Traffic

West Pittsburg Road And
Cherry Street Hill Popular
Route To Ward

Since the Cherry street hill leading from the Cherry street bridge to the West Pittsburg road has been completely re-built and resurfaced, many people go to and from the Seventh ward via the West Pittsburg road and this hill in order to save time.

Using this route all of the street car traffic and through stop traffic thoroughfares are avoided and thus many minutes are saved. The ride along the West Pittsburg highway which is now in A-1 condition, presents many beautiful views of the surrounding countryside.

Progress Is Noted On New Library Building In Ward

Will Be Ready For Use Of Branch Public Library
On August 1

Residents of the Seventh ward district will after August 1 have at their disposal a completely new public library building. On that date, according to G. O. Scheidmantle, owner and builder, the structure will be completed and ready for use by the public library.

Workmen have now completed the plastering and all of the lighting fixtures have been put in place. Painting, installing doors and windows, and a few minor details are all that remain before the building will be completed.

The new structure is located on Madison Avenue just in the rear of the Scheidmantle store, and will replace the library branch now in use on Wabash Avenue. The Wabash room has been in use for a good many years and is now in rather bad condition.

Mr. Scheidmantle is constructing the new building, and when it is completed he will lease it to the public library for its sole use as a branch in the ward. The structure is being built according to specifications supplied by the library for their special use.

The building is a one-story, three-room structure. Provided is a large room for stacks and the main desk. Off to the side of the large room is a small work room and a little storage space and wash room. This building, when completed, will be lighter and airier than the present quarters of the library and will add much to the ward.

Triangle Group Holds Picnic At Cottage Grove

The cottage of Miss Thelma Bumbaugh, Cottage Grove, was the scene of a picnic of the Triangle Missionary society, Saturday afternoon.

Upon their arrival at the cottage, members of the group enjoyed swimming for a few hours. Returning to the cottage later, business meeting was held with the president, Delphine Jones, in charge. Various reports were heard and devotionals were led by Dorothy Douds.

A talk on the Boy Scouts was given by Phyllis Ringer. Delphine Jones read a letter from a girl in Coketown, followed by an interesting map study by Nellie Park.

A delicious picnic supper was later served by the hostess. Special guests included Frank Douds and Rev. Milton Shearer. Next meeting of the society will be held on Saturday, August 7, with the place to be announced.

Visiting Preacher Delivers Morning Sermon At Church

Rev. J. Harold Guy, pastor of the Lawrence Road Presbyterian church in the suburbs of Trenton, N. J., filled the pulpit of Rev. D. C. Schnebly in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church for the Sunday morning service.

Rev. Guy, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Guy of New Castle, spoke on the subject, "The Vital Question." Rev. Guy is spending his vacation in the city and was extended an invitation by Rev. Schnebly to fill the pulpit Sunday morning.

FISHING POPULAR SPORT
A great number of men from this vicinity, some expert anglers and others beginners in the game of fishing, have already made fishing trips from their homes in the ward to streams throughout the state.

Many of the sportsmen have had exceptional luck while others have returned merely with tales of the ones which escaped from his hook. Fishing seems to be the most popular sport at this season in the ward and many residents spent the July Fourth holidays along the river banks or in boats on lakes in search of the prized slippery fin.

Pymatuning Camp Remains

Two Camps In Beaver County Also To Be Continued In Service

PARK PROJECTS BEING PUSHED

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—The two CCC camps in Beaver county located on the Racoon Creek Recreational Demonstration Project will be continued for the next three months at least, Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, announced today.

Mr. Fechner said that 77 camps in Pennsylvania would be operated during the first quarter of the fiscal year which commenced on July 1. Of these, 49 are on state forest projects, six on national forests, 10 in state parks, nine on erosion control work, two on military reservations, and one at the Gettysburg National Military Park.

Forest Camps Continue
The forest camps will continue their operations within Pennsylvania's outstanding system of state forests, and within the Allegheny National Forest. Work will include the protection of these timberlands from fire and the construction of roads, lookout towers, telephone lines and other physical improvements to aid in fire control. These camps will also engage in work designed to develop recreational facilities in these areas, which accommodate many thousands of visitors from the large centers of population in the east.

Improvement and restocking of fishing streams, wildlife conservation, and protection of timber from tree-destroying insects and disease are also important items on the CCC program for Pennsylvania forests.

Pymatuning Camp Continues
The state park camps will continue development and improvement of the state's increasingly popular state park system, Director Fechner reported. State park development programs under way include construction of dams at Laurel Hill Recreational Demonstration Project and at French Creek Recreational Demonstration Project to provide artificial lakes and additional bathing and boating facilities for low-income groups.

Soil erosion control camps will continue their program of protecting farmland topsoil from erosion where it is in the public interest. Two camps will carry on protection and improvement work at Carlisle Barracks and Camp Tobyhanna.

"Approximately 12,600 Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees will be working in Pennsylvania during the quarter beginning July 1," Director Fechner said.

Among the Pennsylvania camps to be continued is the Pymatuning Reservoir Project.

Steal $122.00 And Watch From Hall

William Hall, 24 South Front street, was held up late Saturday night at Market way and Cochran alley and robbed of his pocketbook which contained $122, and a Hamilton watch, he told police.

Hall reported he was walking thru that section when two white men, each about 25, flashed revolvers then robbed him.

Onions worth $175,000 will be sent from Egypt to Germany in part payment of a bridge the firm of Krupp is building over the Nile.

Biggest Circus To Arrive Early Wednesday Morning

Men with steel tape lines moved mysteriously about the wide open spaces at South Mill street today. Frequently they stopped to thrust wire pins into the ground, and, any one trying to figure straight lines, square or circles by the disposition of these pins was certain to wind up with an attack of jitters.

But, when it is explained that one of the three 24-hour men of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, which comes to town tomorrow, was in charge of the field work, the whole puzzle becomes clear. Measurements were taken to insure the proper layout for the thirty-one great tents with The Greatest Show on Earth. It is no child's task to put the Big Show on lots these days, and the 24-hour men take no chances.

The world's largest big top must lie just so, the huge menagerie tent must be placed in just a position at a certain angle, and the side shows, the dressing rooms, band tents, wild west tents and others also must be properly placed in relation to the giant big top. Then the draft horse tents, the cook and dining tents, the ring stock and shop tents—all must be spotted for speedy and unobstructed action, with an eye to the arrangement of the 267 wagons that also must go on the lot in strategic points near their tent complements. As 33 property and rigging wagons must be disposed in a set pattern daily in the "backyard" at the big top performers' entrance, some idea of the worries of the 24-hour men may be guessed.

But all is now ready for the arrival early tomorrow morning of the four long trains over the Erie rail road from Jamestown, N. Y., the haul to the circus grounds and the erection of the canvas city, sheltering the African pygmy elephants, tiny middle-aged tuskies, and the East Indian ponies, the world's smallest beast of burden, 1600 people, seven herds of full sized elephants, 1009 menagerie animals and 700 horses.

There is a noticeable pride among the 1600 people with The Greatest Show on Earth in the new opening spectacle, India, starting at 2 and 8 p. m., tomorrow, which, they say, by far the most impressive and colorful pageant ever produced by the organization. It represents months of planning, of building, trappings, tableaux and lighting effects. It represents months of intensive training—teaching animals to wear unusual headresses and lofty howdahs, to draw strange floats, which, despite their bejeweled beauty, were frightening to jungle creatures. India is the most lavishly costumed, the most gorgeous circus spectacle ever conceived in the opinion of the Big Show personnel. It is the last word in exquisite color blindings and in flood lighting.

Among the scores of outstanding new features from abroad are the Magyars, Europe's largest and most sensational somersaulting springboard acrobatic troupe; the great Aloys, aerial flying and diving daredevil; William Heyer, Europe's first horseman and trainer, with Tamara Heyer and their famous horses; the Wen Hais, Oriental marvels on the weird Chinese bars; the Maysy-Brach troupe, aerial thrillers on the high unicycle shaft; the Lu-Lolita troupe, mid-air upside down gliders; the Randalls, famed flying return troupe; the Orwings, high trapeze sensationalists; the Cleveres, somersaulting acrobatic whirlwinds; the Qualifiers, airplane revolvers; the Colters, Europe's renowned equestrian clowns, and many others of like fame from the Continent, South America and Asia, including Maria Rasputin, daughter of the Mad Monk of Imperial Russia, and her liberty horses.

Colonel Tim McCoy the western screen star, will be seen at the head of his congress of rough riders of the world, including Plains Indians, vaqueros, Cossacks, cowboys and cowgirls.

In the star-tudded Big Show performances are other celebrated aerial, riding and acrobatic headline troupes, among them the Nattos, the Walkmirs, the Antaleks, the Maschinos, the Rooneys and the Torrence-Victorias. Mile Gillette, leaping from the dome of the big top; the largest all-girl aerial display in history; the Loyal-Repsenki, Rieffenach and Walters troupes of bareback riding stars; the Concello and Comet troupes of flying-return marvels, with Antoinette, only girl triple somersaulter; Rudy Rudynoff and his famous free running horses; the Walter Guice troupes of aerial bar comics; Dorothy Herbert, reckless rider of reckless rearing and jumping horses; the two famous high wire Wallenda troupes; Hugo and Mario, the human projectiles; Nio Naitto, lovely somersaulter star of the tight wire; the world famous Yacopis and Pu Wongs, the Uyenos and Yom Kams, and the Imperial Vaqueros, beautiful ballerinas on a troop of white ring horses in bareback riding diversissements—these are some of the headline features among the 800 arenic artists of world renown.

For the convenience of the public, tickets will be on sale at the Lave and Megown Drug store, 12 North Mill street, tomorrow, as well as at the show grounds.

NEW FLARE-UP IN FAR EAST

Fresh Disturbances Are Reported Along Siberian-Manchukuo Border

(International News Service)
TOKYO, July 6.—A new, serious flare-up in the Far East was threatened today when a Japanese news agency reported fresh disturbances along the Siberian-Manchukuo border.

The report, which came only a few days after the Amur river crisis had been settled peacefully, said Soviet troops three times penetrated the Manchukuoan border near Shienhsen southwest of Mishan yesterday.

Twice in the morning attacks, the Japanese version stated, the Soviets fired on Manchukuoan troops, who returned the fire, killing two Soviet troops.

Later, at 8 p. m., said the report, 150 Soviet troops crossed the border and bombarded the Manchukuoan outpost at Shienhsen.

The Manchukuoan troops "repulsed the invaders with heavy losses," the agency report stated.

Steals Plane And Cracks Up, Suffers Critical Injuries

Willard Beers, 19, Cracks Up Plane In Somerset, Pa., Was CCC Camp Member

(International News Service)
SOMERSET, Pa., July 6.—Willard Beers, 19, of Drums, Pa., was critically injured early today when an airplane which he allegedly stole crashed into the business district here.

The ship, which authorities said was stolen from the Somerset county airport, went into a nose dive within a block of the Somerset courthouse. In crashing it struck an outbuilding near the Umberger residence.

The motor was driven back through the cabin and the right wing was torn off. Beers suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, a fracture of the left ankle, a fractured collarbone, several crushed ribs and probable internal injuries.

He regained consciousness after the crashup and told hospital attendants he had taken the plane to return to a CCC camp near Salisbury, Md., according to police. Authorities expressed belief Beers had previous experience with flying since a picture was found in his pocket showing him seated in a plane.

Council Refuses To Withdraw Suit

Request Of J. E. Richardson Is Not Granted At Session This Morning

John E. Richardson today appeared before council at their meeting in city hall. He requested council to withdraw the suit in court in which the city has alleged a building in Grove street under construction is a nuisance. Council refused to grant the request.

Richardson said that if the case were withdrawn he felt sure the Taylor estate would employ an architect and at a conference with the city engineer submit plans whereby the building could be changed to suit the city's laws.

It was at this building that Frederick Taylor was killed several months ago.

The case is before the court. Arguments were scheduled for this morning. However, according to Gilbert Long, assistant to the city solicitor, Judge J. Norman Martin was ill and it was impossible to argue the case.

Long said no more argument would be held until fall.

The city adopted the attitude during the meeting that if Richardson and the Taylor estate wanted to, they could get their architect and do what they believed was right, and that this would have a bearing when the case is argued. However, the city will not withdraw the suit, it was decided.

A meeting of the caddies with the golf committee was held Saturday and following it the boys voted two to one to remain on strike. Later in the afternoon they suddenly decided to go back to work and the holiday golfers were spared the necessity of carrying their own bags.

Station 500 Ohio National Guards At Akron In Case Of Emergencies

RUBBER CITY IN CENTRAL LOCATION

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., July 6.—Four companies of National Guard troops, numbering more than 500 men, were quartered in the armory here early today after their arrival from Canton, where they have been on strike duty.

Capt. William B. Higgins of Cleveland, member of Brig. Gen. William Martin's staff, said the troops were sent here "as a general reserve for any emergency which may arise in Northeastern Ohio."

Centrally Located.

He pointed out the city's proximity to all the major points affected by the present steel strike.

There were reports, however, the presence of the troops had some connection with expected trouble at the plants in this rubber capital of the B. F. Goodrich Co. Company and city officials said, however, that they knew of no requests for militia-men here.

L. L. Callahan, president of the United Rubber Workers Goodrich local, expressed surprise at the arrival of the troops. He said the union has abandoned a plan to halt union members delinquent in their dues from entering the plants. It was this proposed plan which prompted reports of trouble here today.

Joe Laurie Is Doing Comeback

One Of Stage's "Best Little Actors" Sees Lean Days Pass

VAN LOON IS

ACE SCRIBBLER

By O. O. McIntyre
NEW YORK, July 6.—Diary: Up and down the life of Joe Laurie, Jr., the actor, living so long now in Europe, the veteran Daniel Frohman, and Dean Cornwell, who has been knocking about on an Ohio river steamboat. Also a career from Variety's Abel Green in California, touched in his odd paths.

Out with my lady and talked to a radio sponsor O. O. McIntyre whose offer was so bewildering we came within a nip of signing. So to Maillards for a raspberry ice and to saunter along the avenue, passing Irene Castle, Fred Allen and Portland Hoffer and the always meticulously dressed jeweler, Pierre Cartier.

Dinner at home and a heart-wrenching letter from Winifred Knott over the passing of her husband, Jean, the cartoonist. He being a ring leader in our old poker playing crowd at the Majestic, so many of whom are gone. Among them: Clare Briggs, Arthur Roche, Dr. George Dorsey, Ray Rohn and William Johnston. And now Jean.

For years Joe Laurie, Jr., has been regarded as one of the stage's "best little actors". His baggy cap amuse-buscading one eye and his fierce black cheroot at a Joe Cannon tilt have been familiar around the Rialto. Joe was the half-pint philosopher who did much to stiffen the courage of jobless Thespians. Although Joe himself was finding engagements increasingly precarious. But that seems water over the dam. Like several others, Laurie got a break through the Rudy Vallee radio hour and after being held over several weeks finds himself another Cinderella man, with offers from radio, screen and stage in an almost continuous avalanche. One of Laurie's boon companions is the irrepressible Gene Fowler, and every summer they bivouac in adjoining cottages at Fire Island.

The mellow Cafe Royal on Second avenue is the Lindy's of the Ghetto. At its tables gather the Yiddish journalists and actors. Actors who cling to spats and Ascot ties and journalists with silver-headed canes and flowing bows. The Royal was the first restaurant in New York to have sidewalk tables, Paris fashion. Theodore Roosevelt used to drop in for some of the highly spiced dishes when he was police commissioner. Bruno Lessing found it a locale for several of his Ghetto yarns. Myra Kelly once parodied it in a poem, and Oscar Wilde on his visit to America was piloted there for an aperitif.

Whenever a writer feels his output is ballooning out of bounds he has only to look over the record of Hendrik Willem Van Loon to be instantly deflated. Van Loon is America's most prolific scribbler. His latest writing feat was a history of the arts, a 300,000-word manuscript to be published in a single volume. An idea of its voluminousness is gained by the fact that the original typing and revisions as packed for storage filled ten large boxes of copy paper. The actual writing and illustrating took four years, begun and worked at spasmodically 25 years ago.

Bagatelles: One of Premier Baldwin's favorite poems is by William Rose Benet. . . Buford, son of George Horace Lorimer, is now an editor with a book publishing house. . . Annette Kellerman, who is 48, never winces at telling her age. . . Police Commissioner Valentine regards New York City as the greatest of all criminal hide-outs. . . Dorothy Thompson is reported to be in line for the biggest radio salary offered a member of her sex. . . Margaret Case Harriman is doing a profile of Dale Carnegie for a national weekly.

No one in the writing and editorial fields was more popular than Arthur McKeogh who passed the other week. And no one more modest. There were some indeed who worked with him and for him who did not know he was Major Arthur McKeogh, whose bravery in face of what seemed certain death resulted in the recovery of the famous Lost Battalion during the World War. Frail and constantly harassed by disabilities acquired in service, he was always the life of the party and a prime figure in the weekly good fellowship that flowers at the Dutch Treat luncheons. I had a personal brush with the McKeogh brand of friendship. Several years ago during a convalescence when it didn't seem possible for me to continue my column, McKeogh heard about it. Not well himself, he went to the bat and turned in a batch of the sparkling material of which he was always capable, and bridged the interval. He was constantly doing things like that.

Add jitter jets: A dyspeptic little Milquetoast came to his suburban home one evening to find his daughter preparing to run off to marry a city chap. In a frenzy, he squeaked: "All right. But remember if you go you stay well. No more of your hot mother's biscuits." (Copyright 1937, McNaught Syndicate Inc.)

Ready To Play All-Star Game At Washington

National And American League All-Stars Will Play In Capital On Wednesday

By LEON W. SHLOSS
International News Service Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, July 6.—With the advent of half a hundred human baseball chatters worth five million dollars—more or less—this iconic American league stronghold today prepared to perpetrate the supreme paradox of rooting home the National leaguers in the fifth annual all-star game tomorrow.

A "jury" restricted to 32,000 by the capacity of Griffith stadium is ready to pass judgment on the hand-picked nines of the Messrs. Joseph McCarthy and William Terry, managers, respectively of the American and National league "dream teams", by virtue of their having led the pennant winning Yankees and Giants in 1936.

Neither McCarthy nor Terry, to the infinite displeasure of the Fans, from whom the privilege of choosing the all-star teams was lifted this year, slighted their own minions in passing out the highly-coveted "dream game" assignments. Said fans are set to resent, vocally, both gentlemen.

Americans On Spot.

And so, in short, all hands had better be very, very good, tomorrow—or else. McCarthy, and the American league club in particular, are on the spot, because: (1) The contest is being staged in a junior league city; (2) a capital audience, normally hypercritical, is likely to outdo itself tomorrow; (3) McCarthy's management of the A. L. forces in last year's losing game is still under fire; and (4) because he failed to select on his side one Jonathan Stone, a Washington outfielder widely regarded as the "ballplayer's ballplayer."

Of course, with regard to the last item, other vigorous squawks over players "they oughta picked" are in the air. These lamentations, strange enough, arise only from metropol which support major league baseball. The point is, that on the morrow, distance will dull these plaints, while the Washington fans will be within hootin' and shootin' distance of Mister Mac.

President To Attend.

Public fan No. 1, the president of the United States, who has opened four league seasons and one world series, is prepared to attend his first all-star game.

The house has been sold out for weeks, except 9,000 bleacher seats which will be put on the block tomorrow morning.

Alleged expert opinion insists the National leaguers, with their superior pitching and their harder hitting should win in a breeze. The bookies, however, are making the American leaguers an 11 to 10 favorite to take their four triumph in five games.

Dean Will Not Pitch In Game At Washington

Heads For St. Louis And Not Washington Says "I've Got A Sore Arm"

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 6.—Victim of another attack of temper, the great Dizzy Dean was heading for St. Louis today instead of Washington, where he was billed to do some pitching for the National League in tomorrow's all-star game.

His reason for running out on the assignment wasn't quite clear, but he said in the approved Dean manner: "I'm tired of doing what everybody else wants me to do."

Then the St. Louis Cardinals' right-hander continued: "I'd like to do something for myself for a change, all I've been doing is running here and there for somebody else and I'm sick and tired of it all. Not only that, but I've got a sore arm."

Thousands At Auto Races

(International News Service)

Thousands of persons attended the many auto races in Pennsylvania's speed bowls yesterday as the feature attraction of a belated Fourth of July celebration but a cheap up day revealed no fatalities at any of the events.

At Washington, Pa., Vic Nauman of Lebanon, won the 15-mile feature race on the Arden Downs track, driving a Winfield racer, he negotiated the course in 15 minutes 36.4 seconds while a crowd of 5,000 persons looked on.

Rain Halts Race

The scheduled 30-mile feature event at Sharon's bowl was brought to an abrupt end by a sudden rainstorm but Everett Saylor, of Dayton, O., was awarded the victory when the cars were flagged down at the end of seven laps. More than 3,000 enthusiasts who attended were drenched.

At Monongahela track, Joe Chittwood, of Topeka, Kansas, thrilled 5,000 fans when he won the 30-lap top event in 24 minutes and 25 seconds. Russ O'Connor, of Pittsburgh, cracked up during the third lap but escaped uninjured.

Pulaskis Trip Ellwood Team

The K. Pulaski baseball team of the city league handed the Ellwood Cossacks a 9 to 6 defeat yesterday at Glasser field in an exhibition game.

The Pulaski battery was T. Ostrosky and Mrozek with Severa back of the plate. The two Pulaski heavies allowed only eight hits. Hielek off the pitching for the Ellwoodians and was found for 10 hits. Extra-base socks were turned in by W. Soho and Palik.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Ellwood City .015 000 00—6 8 3 K. Pulaski .502 011 00—9 10 1

Pirates Down Redlegs Twice

Take Third Place As Cubs Take Two From Slipping Cardinals

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 6.—The major leagues today viewed the wreckage left by eight holiday doubleheaders and found that the Yankees had increased their American League lead by two full games and that the Chicago Cubs had picked up a game in the National.

With chief contenders missing their best chance in recent weeks to gain on the bell-wethers, the Yanks now are out in front by 5½ games and the Cubs by two as they hit the one big rest period on the schedule—a wide open gap lasting from today through Thursday because of the all-star game at Washington on Wednesday.

And for the most part they deserve that rest from the heat of the pennant strife—especially the pitchers. Yesterday brought forth some wild and woolly fence-busting, with 17 homers parked in the distant reaches of eight fields that were the scenes of hostilities. Through it all there was only one shutout pitching performance.

Yanks Take Pair

One of the homers was hit by Joe DiMaggio in the second game of the Yanks' 15 to 0 and 8 to 4 clean sweep of the Boston Red Sox. That circuit smash came with the bag and DiMaggio boosted his total to 29 to cling to major league leadership. Red Ruffing accounted for the day's only shutout in the opener.

Meanwhile, the Detroit Tigers accomplishing the day's greatest advance—a charge from fourth place into second with 8 to 4 and 7 to 4 victories, the latter in 10 heats, over the erstwhile runner-up Chicago White Sox.

Hank Greenberg connected once for the Tigers to move up into second place in the home run derby with 18.

Trosky Hits Three

But the day's finest demonstration of belting was given by Hal Trosky of the Cleveland Indians, who hit three homers in the first game as the Tribe routed the St. Louis Browns, 14 to 4 and 15 to 4.

Washington beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 3, then played a 2-2 stalemate in the nightcap, called after the 11th because of darkness.

In beating the St. Louis Cardinals by 13 to 12 and 9 to 7, the first game going 14 innings, the Cubs increased their margin because the second place Giants could get only an even break with the Boston Bees. The Giants took the opener, 6 to 2, and dropped the nightcap, 8 to 6.

Pirates Win Two

Their two defeats dropped the Cards from third place into fourth behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who beat back the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 1 and 5 to 1. The Cards' only consolation from the day's proceedings being that Joe Medwick hit a homer and moved into a tie with Mel Ott of the Giants for the loop lead, with 17 each.

The Dodgers lost the opener to the Philadelphia Phillies, 3 to 1, and took the nightcap, 7 to 1.

Schmeling Is In Condition

Joe Jacobs Thinks That German Will Defeat Louis When They Fight Again

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 6.—Possibly a little upset by the noise and confusion of the holiday, Mr. Joe Jacobs, step-manager for Max Schmeling, began absently smoking a roman candle today instead of the inevitable cigar, with the result that Promoter Mike Jacobs and Champion Joe Louis, directly in the line of flight, were badly scratched and lacerated. Promoter Jacobs, he openly charged with delaying the Schmeling-Louis heavyweight championship fight in the hope that Schmeling's advancing years would begin to tell upon him.

But, said he, Schmeling would be in better condition than Louis, if, when provided and in case they do meet. Why?

Good Condition

"Because," the gentleman rejoined, swiftly, "Louis isn't keeping himself in condition and Schmeling is. In fact, Schmeling always is in condition, always has been. He's the kind of a guy. So was Louis two years ago. But he's beginning to realize that there's more to life than three good meals and a nice place to sleep under a tree on the lawn."

"Believe me, and I mean it: The longer they postpone this fight, the better it'll be for Schmeling. It's my opinion that, two years from now, Louis won't be a fighter at all. He'll be through."

But what did he mean by saying that Promoter Jacobs was trying to push the fight as far back as possible? Hadn't he offered Schmeling the Louis match in September, before turning around and propositioning Tommy Farr, the Englishman?

NEW YORK, July 6.—Ralph De Palma told the whole story of yesterday's 300-mile Vanderbilt cup race when he said today: "A kiddy car can't beat a grown up racing machine."

The foreigners had cars that could burn up the straightaways at from 150 to 160 miles an hour. The Americans, except Rex Mays, who drove a foreign job, piloted tomato cans that were lucky to crawl along at 125 miles per hour.

As Bernd Rosemeyer, the German winner of the event, said after the race, "It's the car, not the driver."

Skilled Drivers

That's why today there is already a movement under way to form a syndicate to give the American auto jockeys cars worthy of their skill and daring in the next big race.

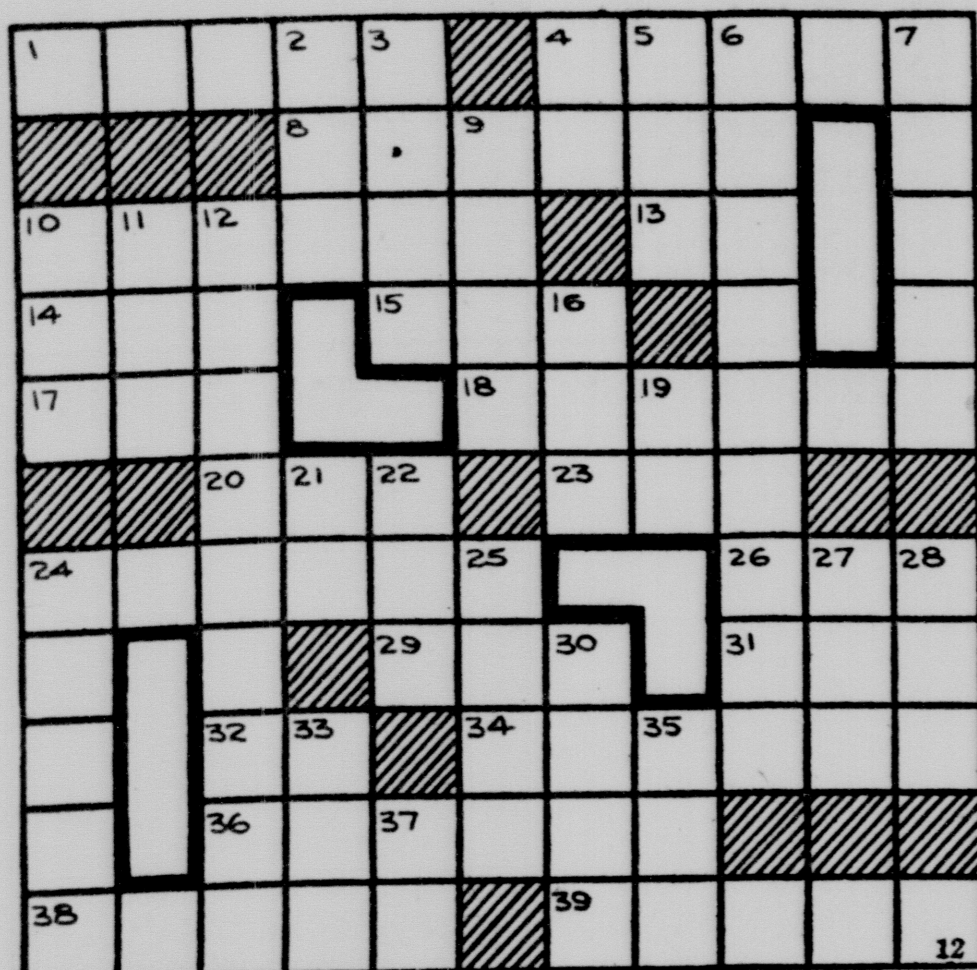

This is by no means an effort to detract one iota of credit from Rosemeyer or any of the other foreign drivers. Without exception, they drove skillful, heady, game races and fully deserved the places they attained.

The point I am trying to make is that the Americans, no matter how skillful and daring, and they were both yesterday, never will be able to compete with the foreigners on even terms until they get faster cars. That, Watson, is absolutely elemental.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Germany added another laurel yesterday when Bernd Rosemeyer

Summer Colony
And New Lake
Being Planned

(Special To The News)
MERCER, July 6.—Edgar E. Brosius and William E. Troutman, steel company executives of Pittsburgh and J. R. Rodgers of Slippery Rock have purchased from Mrs. Louise Filer, 56 acres in Liberty township and from Edward Uber four acres adjoining it, on which is located the old limestone quarry. They also have 48 acres known as the Black property.

Three dams have been built, which when filled, will make a lake of around 25 acres. They have remodeled the house on the Filer property into a modern home, which will be used by the care-taker. Mr. Brosius is now building a log cabin to be used as his summer home.

They will interest 20 of their friends in a colony club, known as Ghost Town Lodge, and expect to have a number of summer homes on the property within the next year. Trees have been ordered to be replanted and landscape a large part of the property. The lake will be stocked with several species of game fish.

Democrats Lose Conservatives

Democratic Party Being Remade Into Roosevelt Party By President

SOUTH IS NO LONGER STRONG

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—It frequently is remarked that old-time Democrats are deserting President Roosevelt.

The fact is that "F. D." is unloading the old-timers out of the Democratic party. Evidently he does not want them in it, unless they come over to his way of thinking. Perhaps it is far to say that the party he is organizing (or reorganizing) will not, when his job is completed, be Democratic in the old-time sense. All the same, he has the label "copy-righted," and it is a valuable asset.

Since the Democrats' three-day outing on Jefferson Island this subject has been a deal discussed in Capitol Hill. The excursionists to the island say they did not talk politics there. Maybe they did not do so formally. Nevertheless, it is clear that many views were exchanged, with a corresponding clarification of viewpoints. What the president really is engaged in doing is beginning to soak into the legislative noodle.

SOUTH OUTVOTED NOW

In past years the predominant Democratic element was southern. Spottily there were a few northern Democrats also, but they were not much like the southern kind.

Now the Democratic strength is northern. Most of the northern state administrations are Democratic, and so are nearly all of the big city administrations. The north, being thus numerically preponderant, at last wags the whole party. This formerly was not the case. When the two-thirds rule prevailed in Democratic conventions, the south, while it might not have majorities, generally did have enough votes to exercise a veto power. The best that northern delegates at these gatherings could get was a compromise.

With the two-thirds rule abrogated, the south, today, simply is outvoted.

CONSERVATIVES IN SOUTH

Now, southern Democrats, in the nature of things, are largely conservative. Not so northern Democrats. The latter are concentrated in industrial states and municipal centers. Democrats in the north are largely urban workingmen who want concessions made to the workers. Not parenthetically, that a capitalist may not also work like a blazer, but ordinarily he isn't classified as a workingman.

Accident, or the trend of the times, put into the White House an executive who is pro-workingman.

It chanced that he calls himself a Democrat.

If he had happened to be a Republican, doubtless it would have been the Republican party that he would have set itself to reorganize to his liking. But, being a so-called Democrat, the Democratic party is the one he is unscrambling and rescrumbling.

A MAJORITY

The Republican party does not matter to him. Let it scramble itself.

Let it in-scramble such old-time Democratic ingredients as he may have found it necessary to out-scramble.

The nub of it is:

He is gambling that his scrambling will be a majority.

STEWART'S VIEW

Just what he aims at heaven knows.

It seems to me that his object is something resembling the English labor party: call it liberal or radical or what will you?

And then, in 1940?—He will have to head it himself or pick his candidate.

Anyway, it will be Democracy and Republicanism in reverse—in effect, a Democratic north versus a Republican south, if they can sort themselves out as coherently as that.

Bending down to pick up a piece of "garden hose," a Montana woman recently was horrified to watch the "hose" wriggle away. It was a six-foot blacksnake.

State Will Have 165,210 On Rolls Of W.P.A. July 15

Reductions Ordered Are Being Made Throughout Entire State

By ARTHUR C. WIMER (Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—Pennsylvania WPA officials are going to find it necessary to speed up dismissals from WPA lists if the state quota of 165,210 jobs on July 15 is to be met, according to figures released by Federal WPA Administrator Hopkins.

As part of the economy program, Mr. Hopkins has called on all state WPA administrators to slash their rolls to specified levels by the middle of the month. He has fixed the Pennsylvania limit at no more than 165,210 jobs. Pennsylvania officials have been paring rolls for several weeks but not with sufficient rapidity.

On June 26 there were 179,738 persons on WPA lists in the Keystone State. This was 14,528 more than the July 15 maximum. During the two weeks ended July 26, only 8,425 persons had been removed from WPA employment in the state. If this average of about 4,000 reductions per week is continued, July 15 will find the Pennsylvania lists still about 2,000 higher than the limit fixed by Mr. Hopkins.

BRIDGEVILLE

Do you know that Bridgeville, in Allegheny County, was in the heart of the Whiskey Rebellion of 1794?

Bridgeville, located along Route 19, was the only town where blood was shed in the insurrection of 1794. General Neville's first home, erected in 1785, is still standing one mile north of Bridgeville. Just west of this home are the beautiful grounds and buildings of the Allegheny County Home and Hospital.

Five miles south of Bridgeville, at Morgantown (Route 19), a monument marks the site where stood the home of Colonel George Morgan, an ardent patriot. In this home Aaron Burr, in 1806, first displayed his plot of treason. Colonel Morgan reported same to President Jefferson.

Many Retreats Are Planned For Summer

District Chairman Jake Defonso Announces Series Of Retreats

District Chairman J. A. Defonso announces that a series of retreats are scheduled at St. Vincent college and St. Fidelis Seminary, Herman, Pa., during the summer months.

The growing attendance at the closed retreats and especially at summer retreats is a form of Catholic action initiated and developed by the diocesan priests. Local men and women, acting on the urgent solicitations of the priest, have filled the five retreat houses of the diocese for week-ends, with great spiritual advantage to themselves and with a consequent enrichment of the sense of the supernatural among all.

The first retreat started June 24, at St. Fidelis seminary, Herman, for young men ranging in ages from 12 to 16. Three more retreats for young men will start July 7 to July 18 at St. Vincent college, Latrobe. The boys' retreat will be followed by a men's retreat commencing July 8 to July 25, at St. Fidelis seminary. From July 25 to August 22, five more retreats will be held at St. Vincent college.

Mr. Defonso also stated that the Holy Name society of Pittsburgh diocese, will celebrate its 25 years' work in promoting retreat movements this year. Chairmen with their committees are at work in local parishes to make the silver jubilee a grand success. Parish chairmen here include:

James Carey, St. Mary's; Peter Mancino, St. Joseph's; J. A. Defonso, St. Vitus; John Lukas, St. Michael's; Max Gadzalska, St. Philip; and James; John Brentin, St. Lawrence, Bessemer.

District chairman, J. A. Defonso announces that the men of St. Vitus parish will attend the July 22 retreat at St. Fidelis seminary, and the women will attend the August 19 retreat at St. Elizabeth retreat house, Herman, Pa.

DROUTH HELPS JUNKMEN

(International News Service)
WALDENBURG, Colo.—Ravages of the drough left many persons and animals in this region in dire circumstances but to collectors, junk men and enterprises it has been a virtual boon, what with the rapid rise in prices in the bone market. Scores of junkmen in trucks are scouring the fields here in search of piles of cow skeletons and bones of all sorts to take to market. The rise in price of bones in the Chicago market from $9 a ton to $27.50 is the motivating factor in the intense search for skeletons.
